Help for liver disease

Care service

Dear interested and affected,

Liver cirrhosis and other serious liver diseases are frequently associated with a high demand on daily processes, which can often be difficult to overcome alone.

- In addition to the medical needs, do you also have a further need for supportive help and would like to have assistance in the form of guidance and support?
- We are also happy to stay at your side to visits to the doctor or similar events.
- Do you need assistance with administrative inputs?
- Would you like to be accompanied concerning other errands?

- Maybe you want some company at home? We accompany you to activities in your free time.

Please call us to book the

Care service

We want to relieve yourself and your family environment.
